THE OFFICIAL NOTICE

Mayor Yeiser this Morning Received The Certified Copy of Bill.

It is Probable the General Council Will Organize Monday Night Next.

TROUBLE OVER SANITARY INSPECTORS

A certified copy of the bill passed by the recent legislature transferring Paducah to the second was class this morning received from Frankfort by Mayor Yeiser. It is the official notice he has been waiting for for the past several days, and it is probable, although not yet certain, that the general council will be organized Monday night. This is the general understanding at present.

More confusion arose today over the second class matter. Complaint was lodged that there was a nuisance back of a South Fifth street establishment, and officers were called to look after it. There are now no sanitary officers, and consequently no one looked after the nuisance.

There is now no board of health, and as a result there can be appointed no sanitary inspectors, as the board has the appointment of them. The council under the third class charter could elect them, but at present there is no way to appoint them unless the council appoints a new board of health, which it should do.

Mayor Yeiser said this afternoon he did not know what would be done, but that the matter would be thoroughly investigated. Heretofore the sanitary officers went on duty April 1st and remained in service until November 1st. This is a time of the year when they are badly needed to look after the general cleaning up that is necessary every spring, and the city should not be forced to undergo any sanitary neglect.

POOR HUSBY

HIS WIFE LEFT HIM BECAUSE OF A NEW FANGLED RELIGION.

Omaha, Neb., March 29.—Albert Donahue was today given a verdict for $7,500 damages in the district court against Mrs. Sarah G. Figg, head of the Figgite church, for the alienating of his wife's affections. The religious sect of which Mrs. Figg is the head, it was alleged by Donahue in his petition, had laws which prevented his wife from living under the same roof with him, and Mrs. Figg was the cause, it was claimed, of her joining the church.

Several damage and divorce suits have resulted from this new sect, in all of which the Figg family has figured prominently.

MARCH REPORT.

OF UNION RESCUE MISSION, 431 SOUTH THIRD STREET, PADUCAH, KY.

Preached 27 sermons, including three funerals; had two conversions and many resolves for a better life; visited and ministered in 37 homes; gave temporal aid to 12 families, dressing 12 boys complete; found homes for three boys and school for blind girl; procured work for four boys and two women. Altogether have had a busy month, and feel that great good has been accomplished. R. W. Chilso, Pastor.

NEW DIVORCE LAW.

IT WILL NOT PLEASE THE PEOPLE SO WELL IN RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, R. I., March 28.—A draft of a new divorce law which has been the subject of much discussion in the general assembly has just passed the house and so became a law of Rhode Island. Under it a residence of two years is necessary before a divorce can be applied for, it being only one year under the old law, which attracted quite a number of applicants.

Mr. Henry Wilson and family, of Benton, have come to Paducah to reside.

MORE BIG WASHOUTS

Trains on the Illinois Central all Delayed in the South.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Damage Done by big Washouts and Delay Of Traffic.

EAST BOUND TRAIN ARRIVED LATE.

The train due from Memphis at 11:30 o'clock today was again three hours late. It has not been on time for several days on account of washouts and wrecks in Mississippi.

Yesterday several prominent officials went south from Fulton on a special train to superintend work at the scenes of trouble.

On the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road, which is operated by the Illinois Central, several washouts are reported, and no trains have come in from the delta country but are tied up at Yazoo City. All the tracks near Russum, Miss., are completely washed away. The total rainfall is said to have been 7 inches. A passenger was ditched near Port Gibson and engine and mail coach overturned.

The engineer and fireman of this train are reported slightly injured. There was for many hours no way that the wrecking train could get to the scene. The track in front of the station at Russum is gone.

A special from Jackson, Miss., says it is flood-bound, and cut off from the world. All the trains are hopelessly tied up; tracks are washed away in many places, telegraph wires are down, and bridges over smaller creeks and streams have disappeared.

On the Illinois Central road there were no trains into Jackson from north or south until yesterday.

The loss to the railroad companies will reach up into the thousands from track damage alone.

A ROYAL TIME.

Is Promised Kentucky Elks at the State Reunion in May.

Fully One Thousand of Them are Expected There to Attend.

The Elks of the state are planning a good time next May at Louisville, when they hold their first state convention. The date is May 29 and 30, and a royal welcome is promised them by Louisville lodge.

Colonel R. S. Brown, chairman of the committee, is authority for the statement that the business meetings of the state association would all be held at the Elks Home. The convention will be called to order Thursday morning, May 29, by Colonel Brown, who will turn the convention over to R. W. Brown, the state president. Another business meeting will be held Friday morning.

According to present plans, it is proposed to give the visitors a trolley ride Thursday afternoon to one of the boulevard beer gardens, where there will be a Dutch supper and vaudeville entertainment. A supper at Fountain Ferry Park is also proposed.

Colonel Brown says that 1,000 delegates are expected. Every lodge in the state will be represented.

HE WAS KILLED

OLD GRUDGE CAUSED A DEATH AT IRVINE, KY.

Irvine, Ky., March 29.—George Gougleton, emptied both barrels of a shotgun into William Hookimer, killing him instantly. Both men were from Powell county, and an old grudge existed between them. Yesterday Hookimer went into the store where the other man was clerking and began to use abusive language. He was ordered out of the store, which incensed him and prompted him to attempt to draw his pistol. Gougleton then shot him and surrendered and is under guard. Sentiment is in his favor.

Our job work can't be excelled.

COUNCILMAN POTTER REVIEWING HIS CONSTITUENCY.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Clearings this week, $474,170. Same week last year, $401,924. Increase, $72,246.

The wholesale houses have been very busy shipping the past week. It has been one of the best of the season for all lines, especially with the dry goods people.

Tobacco continues to move freely, and is putting much money in circulation. Prices are good.

Retail trade this week has been excellent, notwithstanding the season is very early. The dry goods stores and the house-furnishing houses are enjoying the best trade.

Building is active. The threatened strike of the carpenters next week, however, is causing hesitation. The men are striking for an increase in wages from $3.50 a day to $3.80, and in a reduction in hours from 9, as at present, to 8. Just what the outcome will be no one can tell, but it is hoped that the difference between the contractors and the men will be settled soon and amicably.

The Globe Bank and Trust Co. will be ready for business probably by April 6th.

All the local packet lines report freight business on the river as very good.

The commission houses report the best trade on potatoes and seeds of many years.

TERRIBLE DEATH

INDIANA WOMAN TOOK STRYCHNINE BECAUSE OF DOMESTIC TROUBLE.

Bedford, Ind., March 29.—Mrs. Robert Overton, aged about 35 years, committed suicide this morning by taking strychnine about 6 o'clock, dying in horrible agony an hour later. She leaves a husband, and domestic trouble is given as the cause of her act.

REPORTED DROWNING

TWENTY-ONE MEN SAID TO HAVE BEEN LOST IN THE RIVER.

New Orleans, March 29.—It is reported that a boat containing twenty-one men going to a British transport anchored in the river opposite the city, capsized and ten or more men were drowned.

ALMOST SWEEP AWAY

QUARTER OF A MILLION DAMAGED DONE AT HARRISMAN, TENN.

Chattanooga, March 29.—The terrible floods of the past few days have almost washed away Harrisman, Tenn. The city is almost destroyed and seven lives are reported lost. The damage will be over a quarter of a million dollars.

WILL MARRY TOMORROW.

Marriage license was this afternoon issued Prof. A. M. Ragsdale, the county school superintendent, age 28, of the county, to Miss Leah F. Critchfield, of Lone Oak.

The marriage will occur tomorrow at Lone Oak. Both are well known residents of the county.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Miss Ada Thompson, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

VIRTUAL BACKDOWN

Miners Agree to Wait Another Month Before Acting on Scale.

The Operators Were Firm in Refusing the Advance They Demanded.

THE CONFERENCE IS NOW OVER

Mr. William Eades has returned from Central City, where he attended the joint conference of mine operators and workers that met there Monday and did not reach anything like an agreement until yesterday.

He stated that at the conference the miners had demanded the Indianapolis scale, which would be about 5 cents more a ton on coal than the present rate. The operators offered to sign a contract paying the same scale as during the present year. They claimed that there was nothing to justify any increase, and they would not grant it, and it might as well be understood at the start as later.

Both sides were firm, and after being in session about three weeks ago in Louisville for several days the conference adjourned to meet at Central City this week. Nothing could be done to adjust the differences then, and the miners, it is claimed, saw that they could not carry their point, and do not desire to either back down or strike, so they asked for a month's time in which to further consider the offer of the operators, and it was granted. In the meantime the mines in Southwest Kentucky will be worked at the old scale, and on April 28 there will be another conference at Central City for a final settlement. Operators regard the action of the miners as a virtual backdown, and anticipate that next month they will all sign up at the old scale, and this will insure no further trouble for at least a year.

STRIKE PROBABLE.

No Agreement Reached Between Carpenters and Contractors Here.

Tuesday Building Operations May be Suspended in Paducah.

Monday it will be known positively whether there is to be a strike of carpenters, with a possible strike of other workmen belonging to unions in Paducah. It looks today as if there is certain to be. Both sides are firm, and the carpenters say that unless their demand for $2.80 for eight hours' work, instead of $2.50 for nine hours' work, is granted they will all quit work Monday evening and not go back Tuesday. The contractors declare they will not accede to the demand, and are today trying to get other carpenters to fill the places of the union men, should the latter walk out. There are about 180 carpenters belonging to the unions, and even if the members of other unions do not strike through sympathy, a strike of carpenters would be likely to suspend building operations here, as a building cannot be completed without carpenters, and if non-union men were employed all the union men would be compelled to quit work, which would have the same effect.

One plan, it is said, may be followed out is that of sending to other places where work is scarce at present, and getting carpenters belonging to the unions who are willing to work for the wages paid here. If they belong to a union, it is said, the men of other unions cannot refuse to work with them.

At present it is impossible to predict the outcome. The painters demand $2.50 for eight hours' work instead of nine hours' work. The painter contractors say they will endeavor to do their own painting for awhile if their men quit them, hence the painters will probably strike Tuesday also.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and colder tonight. Sunday fair.

SIR KNIGHTS NAMED

Captain J. V. Voris Appoints His Officers and Members.

The To-Be-Noted Macdups Will Now Organize and Begin Drills

THE VOTE FOR THE CARNIVAL QUEEN

The last move towards the organization of the Knights of Macdups was completed this morning, when Sir Knight Captain J. V. Voris chose his officers and men.

The officers are: Messrs. Ed Mumford, first lieutenant; Jamie Brooks, color sergeant; Joseph Sinnott, orderly and Harry Johnson, husher. The company will consist of thirty Sir Knights, who will act as escort to the queen of the carnival whenever she appears in public during carnival week, and participate in all the parades. It will be a new carnival feature for this section of the country, and the costumes that are to be used are something gorgeous, costing $150 for rental alone.

The members of the company are: Messrs. Zack Bryant, Cliff Miller, Frank Judge, Will Dike, Theo. Harrison, Cliff Wilson, Chas. Williamson, James Campbell, Jr., David Koger, Frank Davis, Vaughn Scott, Lowry Smith, Roscoe Reed, Ben Frank, Albert Bondurant, Fred McKnight, Ernest Bell, Ernest Caldwell, Galtner Hennoberger, Newt Atkinson, Harry Collins, Chas. Willatch, Jesse Worton and Rob Dorris. They will meet Tuesday and Friday evenings at 7 sharp for drill. The knights are not taken from the ranks of the Elks alone, many being outsiders.

Donations from the local merchants and from foreign merchants, through local men, are pouring in steadily, and the country store will be a feature of the Elks' carnival long to be remembered. Soap, dry goods, lap-ropes, tinware, jewelry and many other things have been received during the past week, and the merchants are still sending their donations in.

The advertising is being thoroughly worked, and the Elks are confident that this will prove the greatest carnival held in Western Kentucky in many years.

Among the late donations are: From Friedley and Voshardt, Chicago, Ill., through G. R. Davis and Bro., two bathtubs, two towel racks, one wall pocket, two broom holders with brooms.

The vote for queen was last evening again counted, and now stands as follows:

Miss Ruth Weil, 230.
Miss Laura Sanders, 161.
Miss Martha Davis, 163.
Miss Ethel Morrow, 160.
Miss Ida Leake, 170.
Miss Mae Rigsberger, 160.
Miss Aona Boswell, 170.

PROMINENT BAPTIST.

FATHER OF REV. KERR B. TUPPER DIES AT RICHMOND, VA.

Rev. Henry Tupper, D. D., aged 74, died yesterday at his home in Richmond, Va., where he had resided for 30 years past, and until recently occupied the chair of Biblical history at Richmond College. He was for 25 years corresponding secretary of the Foreign Mission board of the Southern Baptist convention.

The deceased was father of Rev. Kerr B. Tupper, at one time pastor of the First Baptist church here, but now of Philadelphia.

VISITS IN OWENSBORO A WEEK.

Frankfort, Ky., March 29.—Governor Beckham left this morning for Owensboro to join Mrs. Beckham, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fuqua. He will remain at Owensboro a week.

RING, HAPPY BELLS

Ring, happy bells of Easter time!
The world is glad to hear your chime.
Across wide fields of melting snow
The winds of summer softly blow.
And birds and streams repeat the chime
Of Easter time.
Ring, happy bells of Easter time!
The world takes up your chant un-
-time.
"The Lord is risen!" The night of fear
Has passed away, and heaven draws near;
We breathe the air of that blest clime
At Easter time.
Ring, happy bells of Easter time!
Our happy hearts give back your chime!
The Lord is risen! We die no more;
He opens wide the heavenly door;
He meets us, while to Him we climb
At Easter time.

THE BEAUTY OF EASTER.

The week has been marked by more than the wonted Lenten quietude, as if "Holy Week" had been made a pause of perfect rest, as it were, to more fully emphasize the renewal of life for which the Easter stands. Very fitting and beautiful it is that the peace of perfect rest should directly precede the peace of perfect joy, that quietness and meditation should open "avenues to God." Tomorrow the joyousness of the Easter-tide will be in the air, everything will be instinct with the very glory of life in its beauty of resurrection. The very season types it in the budding of the trees that only a few weeks ago were bent beneath the burden of sleet, broken and awaying with age and sorrow; in the clothing of the grim and tired old earth anew with the verdure and charm of youth, and further adorning her with the flowers that most recall youth in their daintiness and freshness. The ornaments which have been draped in sombre colors all the week, will tomorrow be adorned as a bride for the altar, in the beauty of the lilies, fairest type of the Easter-tide. And the children of men who toil here below, will strive to show their appreciation of the season by adding to their somber winter garb some touch of brightness, or by substituting for the dark attire, something bespeaking the joy and hope of the spring. Whether it is rightly understood or not, man in his groping after God shows that, poor and bewildered, dim-sighted or "with eyes holden," he yet faintly grasps at some of the true beauty and meaning of the Easter season, when he so seeks to observe the birthday of a new and risen Savior into a life that is eternal, and vast beyond our power to grasp or to imagine.

"Grant, Lord, each Easter-tide may

In us some likeness unto Thee,
Some conquered sin, some vanquished
pride;

As Thou hast conquered and for me hast died!

The old self-life, grant, Lord, be put away.

And now in Thee, an Easter life each day—

New hopes, new longings after better things
Than earthly weal, or fame's attainment brings."

THINGS SOCIAL.

Easter week promises to be fairly gay, not crowded, but as a "starter" enough to keep Society pleasantly occupied. Already some entertainments have been announced, and various clubs are to meet. An Easter wedding which is the forerunner of others to come, will absorb much of the interest of the week. And the notable concert for which many have been zealously working during the Lenten weeks is also an event of importance.
The Kentucky will furnish its quota of things good to see. The presence of visitors in the city will add to the general gaiety and help keep the social ball rolling.

AN EASTER WEDDING.

An event of especial interest for the coming week is the wedding of Miss Anno Parramore Reed and Mr. Rabb
Noble on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, at Grace Episcopal church.
The social prominence of the young couple and the bride's beauty and popularity will bring out society in full force, and the occasion will be graced by many charming Easter toilettes.
Miss Reed is the daughter of Rev.
and Mrs. B. E. Reed, and by right of her vivacity and charm has been a great social favorite ever since coming from St. Louis several years ago to reside.

Mr. Noble is the junior member of the Noble-Overby firm, and is a rising young business man. He is the only son of Mr. Edmund P. Noble, and has many friends in his native city.

The wedding will be characterized by all the charm of an evening affair, and an Easter wedding. Miss Mary Leq Clark of Evansville, Ind., is the maid of honor. Little Misses Dorothy Reed and Elizabeth Kirkland are the flower girls. Mr. Thomas Morton of Chicago is the best man, and the ushers are Mr. William Rieke, Mr.
Tom Hall, Mr. Hughes McKnight and Mr. Horace Shinn. Rector B. E. Reed will perform the ceremony, and Mr.
Montrose P. McArdle of St. Louis, a brother-in-law of the bride, will give her away.

The bride's gown is of white Louisine silk. The maid of honor will wear white silk grenadine, and the flower girls dainty dresses of white,
and will carry baskets of red carnations. The prevailing color of the decorations will be red, and red carnations will be the flowers.

There will be some out-of-town guests present for the occasion.

After the ceremony an informal reception will be given at the Reed home.

LITERARY AND

SOCIAL EVENING.

A most pleasant literary and social evening was given by the Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church in their parlors on Friday night. Mr. Alben W. Barkley gave a delightful review of Ralph Connor's
"Sky Pilot" in a most interesting and graphic style, easily winning and holding the attention of his audience by his power as an orator and vivid mastery of his subject.

Misses Mamie O'Brien, Edna Eades, Marguerite Jones, Geneva Lam and Master Norvin Allen rendered some sweet vocal music, and Mrs. S. H.
Winstead a brilliant instrumental solo.

Refreshments were served during the evening by Miss Agnes McLatchey, who is representing the Purina Mills
of St. Louis in this city, at Mr. E. W.
Bookmon's. The menu was very delicious, and was much enjoyed by those present. The League parlors were prettily decorated for the occasion, and a good crowd was in attendance.

DELPHIC CLUB.

The Delphic club met on Tuesday morning with Mrs. Frank L. Scott.
"Faust" was the subject for consideration, and was most interestingly discussed under two heads. Mrs. Louis
M. Rieke gave very delightfully "The Story and Meaning of the First Part of Faust," and Mrs. Luke Russell the "Lessons of the Second Part." This closed the month with Goethe,
which has proved a most enjoyable feature of the year's work.

Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips is the April hostess of the Delphic.

THE COMING WEEK.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw of the West End will receive on Monday evening from nine to eleven in honor of their guest, Miss Mabel Hood of Baltimore, Md.

The Musical club will meet Monday evening in the lecture room of the First Christian church. "German Composers" is the study for the evening.

The Delphic club meets with Mrs.
Robert Becker Phillips on Tuesday morning.

The Married Ladies' Euchre club will be entertained Tuesday afternoon
by Mrs. William Hummel.

The Jessie Hartlett Davis concert at The Kentucky on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Home of the Friendless.

The Reed-Noble wedding will take place at Grace Episcopal church on Wednesday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Stanott will entertain the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon. Harper's Review of Reviews, Atlantic Monthly and Forum will be reported.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Mrs. Urey Woodson of Owensboro arrived this week. She is spending Easter with Mr. Woodson at the Palmer House.

Miss Mabel Hood of Baltimore is the guest for the Easter holidays of Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw of West Broadway.

Miss Jeanette Campbell, who has been in New York for several years studying for the stage, arrived this week to visit her parents, Judge and Mrs. James Campbell.

Mr. Thomas W. Morton will arrive from Chicago on Tuesday to be the best man to Mr. Rabb Noble at his wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Einstein and children have returned to their home in St. Louis, after a pleasant visit to Major and Mrs. M. Bloom of Jefferson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Montrose P. McArdle and Montrose P. McArdle, Jr., of St.
Louis will arrive Tuesday to attend
the Reed-Noble wedding.

Miss Faith Langstaff, who has been south with her grandfather, Colonel Q. Q. Quigley for several weeks, returned home this week. They visited New Orleans, Pass Christian and other points of interest.

Mrs. Olin B. Leigh and Master
Philip Pointer Leigh will arrive in April to visit Mrs. Mary Leigh and Miss Ora Leigh. Mrs. Leigh is enroute from Owensboro to Salt Lake City to join Mr. Leigh, who accepted a position with a big paper out there.

Miss Mary Lee Clark of Evansville,
Ind., who will be Miss Anne Reed's maid of honor, will arrive Tuesday.
Miss Clark was bridesmaid at the wedding of her brother, Mr. Bransford Clark, and Miss Virginia Reed, last year, and won many friends during her visit. She is very pretty and charming.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

There will be a meeting of the Y.
M. C. A. gymnasium class tonight and all members are requested to be in attendance. This is the young men's class, and after this week the meeting nights will be changed.

As previously stated, Rev. George W. Briggs will speak to the men at the special Easter services tomorrow at the association.

SCHOOL CENSUS.

ENUMERATORS BEGIN WORK IN PADUCAH NEXT TUES.

DAY MORNING.

Messrs. J. M. Hart, E. B. Richardson and Will Baker will next Tuesday morning begin taking the school census of Paducah, each to cover two wards. The work usually requires two or more weeks, and they expect to get more school children this time than ever before by several hundred.

Foley's Honey and Tar
for children, safe, sure. No opiates.

THEY CAN'T STAY AWAY.

Mr. Ira Landrum, formerly of the I.
C. blacksmith shops here, has returned from Vermont, where he held a position in the Vermont Central railroad blacksmith shops, and will again work for the I. C. here, beginning Monday.
He left just before Christmas. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he has returned.

The Doings of the Smart Set the Past Six Days. Pleasant Events and Personal Mention.

RING, HAPPY BELLS.

Ring, happy bells of Easter time! The world is glad to hear your chime. Across wide fields of melting snow The winds of summer softly blow, And birds and streams repeat the chime Of Easter time.

Ring, happy bells of Easter time! The world takes up your chant sublime.

"The Lord is risen!" The night of four Has passed away, and heaven draws near;

We breathe the air of that blest clime At Easter time.

Ring, happy bells of Easter time! Our happy hearts give back your chime!

The Lord is risen! We die no more; He opens wide the heavenly door; He meets us, while to Him we climb At Easter time.

THE BEAUTY OF EASTER.

The week has been marked by more than the wonted Lenten quietude, as if "Holy Week" had been made a pause of perfect rest, as it were, to more finely emphasize the renewal of life for which the Easter stands. Very fitting and beautiful it is that the peace of perfect rest should directly precede the peace of perfect joy, that quietness and meditation should open "avenues to God." Tomorrow the joyousness of the Easter-tide will be in the air, everything will be instinct with the very glory of life in its beauty of resurrection. The very season types it in the budding of the trees that only a few weeks ago were bent beneath the burden of sleet, broken and awaying with age and sorrow; in the clothing of the grim and tired old earth anew with the verdure and charm of youth, and further adorning her with the flowers that most recall youth in their daintiness and freshness. The churches, which have been draped in sombre colors all the week, will tomorrow be adorned as a bride for the altar, in the beauty of the lilies, fairest type of the Easter-tide. And the children of men who toll here below, will strive to show their appreciation of the season by adding to their sombre winter garb some touch of brightness, or by substituting for the dark attire, something bespeaking the joy and hope of the spring. Whether it is tightly understood or not, man in his groping after God shows that, poor and benighted, dim-sighted or "with eyes hidden," he yet faintly grasps at some of the true beauty and meaning of the Easter season, when he so seeks to observe the birthday of a new and risen Savior into a life that is eternal, and vast beyond our power to grasp or to imagine.

"Grant, Lord, each Easter-tide may see

In us some likeness unto Thee, Some conquered sin, some vanquished pride;

As Thou hast conquered and for me hast died!

The old self-life, grant, Lord, be put away,

And now in Thee, an Easter life each day—

New hopes, new longings after better things

Than earthly weal, or fame's attainment brings."

THINGS SOCIAL.

Easter week promises to be fairly gay, not crowded, but as a "starter" enough to keep Society pleasantly occupied. Already some entertainments have been announced, and various clubs are to meet. An Easter wedding which is the forerunner of others to come, will absorb much of the interest of the week. And the notable concert for which many have been zealously working during the Lenten weeks is also an event of importance. The Keatney will furnish its quota of things good to see. The presence of visitors in the city will add to the general gaiety and help keep the social ball rolling.

AN EASTER WEDDING.

An event of especial interest for the coming week is the wedding of Miss Anne Parramore Reed and Mr. Rahb Noble on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, at Grace Episcopal church. The social prominence of the young couple and the bride's beauty and popularity will bring out society in full force, and the occasion will be graced by many charming Easter toilettes.

Miss Reed is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. B. E. Reed, and by right of her vivacity and charm has been a great social favorite ever since coming from St. Louis several years ago to reside.

Mr. Noble is the junior member of the Noble-Overly firm, and is a rising young business man. He is the only son of Mr. Edmund P. Noble, and has many friends in his native city.

The wedding will be characterized by all the charm of an evening affair, and an Easter wedding. Miss Mary Lee Clark of Evansville, Ind., is the maid of honor. Little Misses Dorothy Reed and Elizabeth Kirkland are the flower girls. Mr. Thomas Morton of Chicago is the best man, and the ushers are Mr. William Rieke, Mr. Tom Hall, Mr. Hughes McKnight and Mr. Horace Shinn. Rector B. E. Reed will perform the ceremony, and Mr. Montrose P. McArdle of St. Louis, a brother-in-law of the bride, will give her away.

The bride's gown is of white Louisiana silk. The maid of honor will wear white silk grenadine, and the flower girls dainty dresses of white, and will carry baskets of red carnations. The prevailing color of the decorations will be red, and red carnations will be the flowers.

There will be some out-of-town guests present for the occasion.

After the ceremony an informal reception will be given at the Reed home.

LITERARY AND

SOCIAL EVENING.

A most pleasant literary and social evening was given by the Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church in their parlors on Friday night. Mr. Allen W. Burkley gave a delightful review of Ralph Connor's "Sky Pilot" in a most interesting and graphic style, easily winning and holding the attention of his audience by his power as an orator and vivid mastery of his subject.

Misses Mamie O'Brien, Edna Eades, Marguerite Jones, Geneva Lam and Master Norvin Allen rendered some sweet vocal music, and Mrs. S. H. Winstead a brilliant instrumental solo.

Refreshments were served during the evening by Miss Agnes McLathey, who is representing the Purina Mills of St. Louis in this city, at Mr. E. W. Bockmon's. The menu was very delightful, and was much enjoyed by those present. The League parlors were prettily decorated for the occasion, and a good crowd was in attendance.

DELPHIC CLUB.

The Delphic club met on Tuesday morning with Mrs. Frank L. Scott. "Faust" was the subject for consideration, and was most interestingly discussed under two heads. Mrs. Louis M. Rieke gave very delightfully "The Story and Meaning of the First Part of Faust," and Mrs. Luke Russell the "Lessons of the Second Part." This closed the month with Goethe, which has proved a most enjoyable feature of the year's work.

Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips is the April hostess of the Delphic.

THE COMING WEEK.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw of the West End will receive on Monday evening from nine to eleven in honor of their guest, Miss Mabel Hood of Baltimore, Md.

The Musical club will meet Monday evening in the lecture room of the First Christian church. "German Composers" is the study for the evening.

The Delphic club meets with Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips on Tuesday morning.

The Married Ladies' Euchre club will be entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. William Hammel.

The Jessie Bartlett Davis concert at The Kentucky on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Home of the Friendless.

The Reed-Noble wedding will take place at Grace Episcopal church on Wednesday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Stanott will entertain the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon. Harper's Review of Reviews, Atlantic, Monthly and Forum will be reported.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Mrs. Urey Woodson of Owensboro arrived this week. She is spending Easter with Mr. Woodson at the Palmer House.

Miss Mabel Hood of Baltimore is the guest for the Easter holidays of Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw of West Broadway.

Miss Jennette Campbell, who has been in New York for several years' studying for the stage, arrived this week to visit her parents, Judge and Mrs. James Campbell.

Mr. Thomas W. Morton will arrive from Chicago on Tuesday to be the best man to Mr. Rahb Noble at his wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Einstein and children have returned to their home in St. Louis, after a pleasant visit to Major and Mrs. M. Bloom of Jefferson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Montrose P. McArdle and Montrose P. McArdle, Jr., of St. Louis will arrive Tuesday to attend the Reed-Noble wedding.

Miss Faith Langstaff, who has been south with her grandfather, Colonel Q. Q. Quigley for several weeks, returned home this week. They visited New Orleans, Pass Christian and other points of interest.

Mrs. Olin B. Leigh and Master Philip Pointer Leigh will arrive in April to visit Mrs. Mary Leigh and Miss Ora Leigh. Mrs. Leigh is en route from Owensboro to Salt Lake City to join Mr. Leigh, who accepted a position with a big paper out there.

Miss Mary Lee Clark of Evansville, Ind., who will be Miss Anne Reed's maid of honor, will arrive Tuesday. Miss Clark was bridesmaid at the wedding of her brother, Mr. Bransford Clark, and Miss Virginia Reed, last year, and won many friends during her visit. She is very pretty and charming.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class tonight and all members are requested to be in attendance. This is the young men's class, and after this week the meeting nights will be changed.

As previously stated, Rev. George W. Briggs will speak to the men at the special Easter services tomorrow at the association.

THE RED MEN ELECT.

MORE ABOUT THE ASSESSMENT.

Several days ago attention was called to the blundering, incomplete assessments of McCracken county, which have been obviously so far short of what they ought to be that the tax rate has to be made much higher, and the revenue derived much smaller than is right or desirable.

The assessment of Graves county, a larger county, but one nothing to compare to McCracken in wealth, has just been completed, and a comparison reveals some of the glaring errors in our own.

The item of town lots cuts a prominent figure. In McCracken the number is given at 5,063, valued at $5,592,635, while in Graves the number is 1,591, valued at $1,359,547, leaving about three-eighths of the total assessment to be made up on other things in McCracken, and about six-sevenths in Graves, where the total is $7,526,265, against a total in this county of $5,587,417. It is thus seen that after the item of town lots has been eliminated from McCracken county's assessment, there remains yet to be assessed only about $3,000,000 of property; in Graves county after the item has been eliminated, there remains other property to be assessed amounting to over $6,000,000.

The amount of cash in Mayfield banks is given at $109,895; in McCracken it is given at $7,875.

The value of geldings, mares and colts common stock, is given in Graves at $303,565; in McCracken at $41,675.

The number of bulls, cows, calves, of common stock in Graves is given at 11,133, valued at $133,349; in McCracken, 1,085, valued at $13,293.

Number of hogs in Graves, 28,227, value, $67,184; McCracken, 1,231, value, $5,103.

Mules and colts in Graves, 4,412, value, $188,680; McCracken, 411, value $14,580.

Vehicles in Graves valued at $100,551; in McCracken, $21,875.

Household goods in Graves valued at $281,902; in McCracken, $32,065.

Value of pianos and other musical instruments in Graves $38,795; in McCracken, $5,760.

Value of diamonds in Graves, $3,715; in McCracken, $660.

Value of watches and clocks in Graves, $13,357; in McCracken, $940.

Value of steam engines and boilers in Graves, $7,235; in McCracken, with our almost countless big industries, $9,210.

It is true that Graves is a larger county, and richer in agricultural products, and yet the difference in the assessments shows plainly what a vast discrepancy there is in McCracken's assessment.

When we are told that there is over $100,000 in Mayfield banks, as shown in the Graves county assessment, and only $7,875 in the five large banks of Paducah, we know it is entirely false and absurd, as bank statements show that there is about $700,000 in banks here. When we are told that the vehicles in Graves are worth over $100,000, and these in this county only about $25,000, we know that our assessor has been very careless in this regard, for there are more vehicles in Paducah alone, by many thousands of dollars, than in the entire county of Graves. Graves county, with no town larger than Mayfield, shows household furniture assessed at $282,902, while McCracken, with Paducah and her 20,000 people and many fine and elegantly furnished homes, is assessed on only $32,065.

These comparisons are shown simply to sustain us in our claim that it is an outrage that McCracken county's assessments are so incomplete and unfair. According to the assessor's books there are assessed for county poll tax only about one-third of the voters in the county.

ANTI-TRUST LAW VOID.

Had the Kentucky legislature that lately adjourned passed the anti-trust law that for several days aroused considerable opposition throughout the state, the law would virtually have been ineffective.

Says the Literary Digest: Some of the papers are wondering what the legislature of the Western and Southern states will do now, since the supreme court has made waste paper of their radical anti-trust legislation. It was only the Illinois trust law that was declared unconstitutional by the court, but twelve other states, Georgia, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin, have trust laws built on the same plan, and it is the general opinion of the press that they, too, receive their quietus in the Illinois decision. The fatal defect in the Illinois law, and in the other twelve, was the provision that the penalties against consolidation should "not be held to apply to livestock and agricultural products in the hands of the producer or raiser." The supreme court decides that the Fourteenth Amendment to the federal constitution absolutely forbids such an exemption. No legislature, says the court, can "divide those in trade into two classes and make criminals of those in one class...while allowing another and favored class engaged in trade to do the same thing with impunity." The laws in all the states mentioned above have provisions excepting one or more favored classes from the penalties against consolidation.

Labor organizations have a special interest in this decision, thinks the Pittsburgh Dispatch, for it may mean "that an anti-trust law to be constitutional must bear as heavily upon labor unions as upon organizations of capital." "Imagine the effect of the news in Texas," says the Providence Journal, where "the people have the most stringent anti-trust law known in this country," and where the lines paid into the state treasury by the trusts have been "almost as profitable as the trust charters have been to New Jersey." The Chicago Evening Post says:

"It is not unlikely that the next general assembly of Illinois will try to enact an anti-trust law which will make no exemptions from its provisions. There will be no harm in doing so, but it is open to question if such enactment will do any particular good. The state is not the place from which trusts should be controlled. In the majority of cases these industrial combinations are far more than state-wide in their purpose and operations. They are largely national in scope and they should be subject to national legislation."

WHO GOT THE BILL?

Probably the reported theft of the registration bill at Frankfort is another effort to "damn the Republican party in Kentucky." Or perhaps it

A BREATHING SPELL.

If the Consumptive could only keep from getting worse it would be some encouragement.

Scott's Emulsion at least gives tired nature a breathing spell from the exhausting conflict with disease.

Rich nourishment, strength to repair bodily waste, new life for the lung, these are what Scott's Emulsion brings.

Often it enables nature to gather force enough to throw off the disease altogether.

Scott's Emulsion is valuable at the beginning. Then, when cure is most certain. But in any stage of the disease Scott's Emulsion counteracts the work of destruction and reinforces nature.

was only passed to disappear and be "stolen." There is certainly something suspicious looking about the missing bill. The Democrats first claimed that it would give them a chance to buy up all the negro votes, and in this way created the impression that the Republicans feared the bill and wanted to get rid of it. The bill was in control of the legislature during its session, and the legislature was Democratic. It is presumed the legislature ordered the bill into the hands of the proper persons, and these persons were Democrats. The bill was passed, and was passed by the Democrats, who were presumed to have turned it over to the committee on enrollment. Before it reached the executive office, we are asked to believe it disappeared. If it did, those who knew where it disappeared to are doubtless Democrats. It has been in their control constantly, and although the Democrats are now insinuating that the Republicans made away with the bill, these insinuations are only for a purpose.

It may be they have on foot another magnanimous plan to show up some deep, dark conspiracy to abduct or felonily murder the bill, and as soon as a $100,000 reward fund can be raised, will spring it on the people, and prove to a waiting world "who stole the election bill," involving many of the prominent Republicans, some of whom will doubtless leave the state and go to Indiana, from whence they may never return. In fact, it can be conclusively proven that a number of Republicans have been in Frankfort lately, and if this suspicious circumstance is not sufficient to convict them before any jury of reputable Democrats, then Wharton Golden and Barber Weaver will simply have to be sent for again. If it is only proven that the bill cannot be found, and that there has been a Republican around Frankfort within six months previous to the commission of the said deed, the conspiracy will be plain, and all the Republicans who have not already fled to Indiana will then probably flee, and leave the state to the Democrats. But whatever fate befell the bill, it is certain the Democrats didn't steal it. They never fool with anything smaller than a national bank or a batch of state officers.

URNS AUTHOR.

JUDGE W. D. GREER WRITES
THE VERSES TO A PRETTY SONG JUST OUT.

Judge W. D. Greer, the well known attorney, has just had published a song the words to which he wrote and the music of which is by Prof. Charles M. Davis, the organist formerly of Paducah, but now of New Orleans.

The title of the song is "Song of My Mother," and it is dedicated to Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Judge Greer wrote the words some time ago, and they were regarded as a clever bit of Prof. Davis was asked by a friend of the author to write the music, and one night Judge Greer was invited to a musical, and was surprised to hear the verses he wrote, sung to music by Miss Lush.

The song is published by a Philadelphia concern, and the title page contains a handsome picture of Judge Greer.

T. P. A. ELECTION

LOCAL POST WILL CALL FOR OFFICERS THIS EVENING.

The members of the local Post, Travelers' Protective Association will meet tonight at E. D. Gillon's store to elect officers and a delegate to the state convention, which is to be held here May 3. A good crowd is expected to turn out, as there is natural interest this year in the election of a state postmaster, the contest being between two Louisville gentlemen, and very spirited thus far. Paducah vote will doubtless decide the contest one way or the other.

SUIT FILED

J. T. Hale, the blacksmith employed at the I. C. railroad, who was injured several weeks ago by a big steel wheel axle falling on his hands, has filed suit for $5,000 against the road.

Hale and several other blacksmiths were taking the axle into the shop, when it struck a door and was knocked off the truck. Hale had his hands locked under the steel, and the weight made it impossible to turn loose, with the result that his hands were badly mashed and one is now useless, as he cannot use the fingers.

The suit of Peter Jones against the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co. was yesterday compromised for $200, the damages wanted amounting to $500. Jones was injured in a collision with the defendant's wagon, the team of the defendant having run away and dashed into that of Jones.

THE RIVER NEWS.

The time of the Duke of New Orleans from New Orleans to Louisville in the 40s was 4 days 19 hours and 31 minutes. The time of the Telegraph, No. 3, in the 50s from this city to Cincinnati was 9 hours and 43 minutes—a record which was wiped out by the City of Louisville.—Conter-Journal.

There were few better known steamboat engineers in the 40s and 50s than Mr. Joseph Norris, who ran on many of the fine, fast boats in the Louisville and New Orleans trade. He was well known in Paducah, where he had friends. Mr. Norris died in Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently, and was well advanced in years.

The officials of the Monongahela River Coal and Coke company are congratulating themselves over the fact that although they recently have experienced one of the largest floods that has been known in this locality for many years yet they have not sustained one dollar's worth of loss. Since the flood, March 1, about 10,000,000 bushels of coal have been shipped by the combine to Southern ports and it has been delivered in safety.

The low stage of water on the Ohio river is revealing hidden treasures. Much coal has been sunk in the stream since navigation was resumed last November, and the water is just now beginning to uncover the wrecks. Steamboatmen say all along the river men and boys were observed taking out coal and piling it up on the banks. It is said that many a family put in a year's supply.

Captain E. H. Howard, who will build the New Orleans ferry steamer, Alex M. Hurliday, has concluded to construct her so she will launch sideways, and with this end in view has a gang of men at work grading off a slump of the hills abreast of the spot where the Kate Adams, W. R. King and three steel dredgeboats were constructed. The frames, deck platings and side plates are rapidly being worked out in the steel shops and by next Saturday the skeleton of this craft will be up, ready to be filled out.

A new large line to be known as the Gulf and Mississippi Transportation company, has been organized at New Orleans to do a general towing business on the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

The St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet company has arranged a joint tariff with the Memphis, New Orleans and Cincinnati Packet company, and will take freight and passengers for all points on the lower Mississippi river as far as New Orleans.

The Joe B. Williams belonging to the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company has arrived at Pittsburg from New Orleans and will be prepared at once for the installation of a complete set of new boilers. The coal combination had at first intended to put the new type of Scotch marine boilers on the Williams, but the plan has been abandoned.

Captain F. M. Daugherty, of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, arrived last night from Louisville, and will be here until Monday, when he leaves for Cairo.

The big towboats Raymond Horner and Oakland are on their way down, and the Oakland should pass Paducah today. Both have large tows.

The wharfbow was almost cleaned out by the Avalon yesterday, eighty tons of freight being taken away from Paducah for Chattanooga and way landings by the steamer.

The Sunshine is due down today, and will probably fill the wharfbow up pretty well, as she is "loaded" for Paducah.

The levee has been a very bad place to have to go to for the past two days on account of the mud. The city has placed some little stone in places but some of the levee still is like a fobolily during wet weather.

Pilot Arthur Cole, of the Condor, came up last night from Jopka, and was in the city this morning greeting his many friends.

The Ten Broeck, with Pilot Arthur Cole at the wheel, will arrive today from Jopka and leave for Tennessee river after tea.

Pilot John Collins, who has been on the City of St. Louis, in the lower Mississippi, has accepted a berth on the Island Queen, and is bringing her up from New Orleans.

It is reported that Sand Island, below Louisville, has been leased by one of the coal combine, and when the SURPRISING RESULTS.

A SIMPLE INTERNAL REMEDY MAKES REMARKABLE CURES OF CATARRH.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh, and have found how useless and inconvenient they are will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest and most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children by destroying nerve sensation; the irritation in throat, which causes coughing is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause but by deadening the nerves of feeling. The irritation is not felt although it is still there, and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach, because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics, blood root, red gum from encalyptus tree, etc.; when you use these tablets you know what you are putting into your system, and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Dr. Ramsdell, in commenting on catarrh cures says: "I can heartily recommend Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised catarrh cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of the tablets for several weeks. One case in particular, which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray, and where the catarrh caused daily headaches and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Walnwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for catarrhal headaches and catarrhal deafness, because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult, and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drugstores in no reason why any good physician should not use them, because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children, because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croup at the very beginning.

Oakland, one of the People's Coal combine, put out a line there yesterday, it was out. The report, however, could not be verified. The Oakland passed down this morning with a large tow.

The Lyda left this morning for Tennessee river for ties.

The Woolfolk passed down this morning for Memphis with three empty barges. She will bring up logs for the Ferguson and Palmer people.

The Inverness is now at Mount City taking out barges. She will arrive here this afternoon or tonight and leave in the morning for Cumberland river for ties.

Kaiser's Wish Gratified.

The wish of the kaiser has forced the electric road for Under den Linden, Berlin's beautiful boulevard and main thoroughfare, underground.

DOG TAXES.

IT IS LIKELY THAT THIS YEAR THERE WILL BE A CRUSADE.

Dog taxes will be due May 1st, and it is probable that this year there will be a crusade against the canine. Former Mayor Lang is fond of dogs and horses and never compelled a strict enforcement of the dog law, but Mayor Yelzer does not care particularly for them, and besides the city needs the money this time. All who have dogs accordingly must prepare to pay for the privilege of keeping them or get rid of them May 1st.

EASTER COMES EARLY.

WHAT DETERMINES CHANGE OF DATE EVERY YEAR.

Tomorrow is Easter, and as it comes earlier than usual, and the temperature is not such that spring suits and gowns may prove very comfortable, it is probable that there will not be so many ent tomorrow as usual.

Easter is always on the first Sunday after the first full moon after the vernal equinox. The vernal equinox is on March 21st, and this year the first full moon thereafter was on the 23rd, last Sunday. This year Easter is very nearly as early as it can come, although it is sometimes as early as the 25th.

BOOK IS OUT.

THE FIRST OF IT DISPENSED IN PADUCAH THIS MORNING.

Book beer is out today in Paducah, and is being drunk with the usual relish by those who like malt drinks. Book is a special brew, extra strong, and is always out just after Lent. It was put on today by all the brewers, and lasts but a few days. It is of dark color and much stronger than other beers.

WANTED IN ST. LOUIS.

John K. Morrell, who was indicted in St. Louis on a charge of bribery, it being alleged that he had two brothers received $70,000 when he was a member of the general assembly, from the Suburban Street Railway company is believed to have come this way. He skipped his bond, and there is a reward of $800 for his apprehension. Sheriff Potter and the police department have received requests from the St. Louis police to keep a lookout for him.

UNUSUAL CHARGES MADE.

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 29.—Mrs. George Schaffar has sued for divorce, alleging that her husband has completely ignored the existence of herself and child since their marriage a year ago. She complains he spoke to her but once, and that on that day he beat her severely for having a baby carriage. Schaffar has leased the La Belle park at Paducah, Ky., for this summer.

FIRST SHOOT A SUCCESS.

The Gun club held its first shoot at La Belle park yesterday afternoon despite the rain. Captain Wello had the shoot postponed, but the members were so urgent that in the afternoon it was decided to hold it. The inclement weather notwithstanding, and it was held. The matches were at live birds, and these was some fairly good shooting.

PURCHASES A FINE RESIDENCE.

Dr. Frank Boyd has purchased from Judge W. D. Greer, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Jane Cosby, the handsome brick double tenement residence on North Fifth street, near Madison, the consideration being $6,000. It is one of the most modern houses in Paducah, and it is understood Dr. Boyd will reside in part of it.

A FINE MARKET TODAY.

The market today was unusually fine, and there was an abundance of everything in season. The crowds out were also large, and the morning supply was pretty well exhausted. This afternoon there is more truck and more people out buying it than for many weeks.

CURFEW WILL CHANGE.

The small boy who has been going in at 8 o'clock at night for several months past, although there may be few of him, will be glad when next Tuesday arrives and he can stay out an hour longer. The curfew will then, and until October 1, blow at 9 o'clock instead of 8.

STORK TIME

to women is a term of much anxiety, serious thought and sweet anticipation. Pain and dread, love and joy, come ever changingly.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

diminishes the pain accompanying maternity. With its aid mothers can bring healthy babies, sweet dispositioned babies and ideal babies into the world. Take away the pain of childbirth and you have bliss and ecstasy. Morning sickness, sore breasts and excruciating pains caused by the gradually expanding organs, are relieved by this remarkable soothing balm.

Among the manifold aids to childbirth Mother's Friend has grown in popularity and gained a prestige among rich women as well as poor; it is found and welcomed in the mansion as well as the cabin. Children, strong intellectually and physically, are a duty every pregnant woman owes to herself.

It is lessening the mother's agony of mind and diminishing pain a beautiful influence is wrought upon the child, and instead of feeble, ill-tempered and sickly forms you have laughing humanity that remains a blessing ever after to you and its country.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

A marriage license was this morning issued James M. Ledford of the city, a farmer, to Nellie May McClure, of the city, aged 22. It will make the first marriage of both.

Mrs. L. S. Webb
Vice-President Women's Democratic Clubs of Northern Ohio.

THERE are many sickly women between the ages of 45 and 55, but there are very few invalids over 55 or 60 years of age. The change of life coming to a woman near her forty-fourth year, either makes her an invalid or gives her a new lease on life. Those who meet this change in ill health seldom live ten years afterward, while a woman who lays aside the active duties of womanhood in health seldom fails to live on in happiness, years after she has passed 60. During the change of life, the menstrual function gradually disappears. This is truly a critical time.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb, of Toledo, Ohio, recognizes the change of life as a dangerous period and she also has faith in Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"As I had always been troubled more or less at the menstrual period, I dreaded the change of life which was fast approaching. While visiting with a friend I noticed that she was taking your Wine of Cardui, and she was so enthusiastic about it that I decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax. I do not dread it now, as I am sure that your Wine of Cardui will be of great benefit to this time."

Mrs. Elizabeth Barfield, of Fort Barnwell, N. C., has had happy experience

GOLDEN EASTER EGG

AY HARTLEY was fond of saying that she was "not like other girls," and Harry Lee agreed with her entirely. Indeed, he went much further in his belief than she did, for she meant that her usual way of doing things was a different, while he not only thought that, but thought she differed greatly in being more beautiful and lovable and harder to propose to than other girls. She didn't follow up any of the usual leads that are so likely to bring up the momentous question naturally when young people are together. On the contrary, she seemed to realize several sentences ahead what he was going to stammer out when he had made up his mind to propose and never failed to change the subject skillfully. Of course this only made him the more eager to have his face set.

When Harry came home from the city for his Easter holiday, it was with a grim determination to go back as an engaged man or know the reason why. He knew that he would have to do something clever in the way of proposing, and, as he had studied the matter carefully since Christmas, he felt sure that his plan was one that would surely succeed. But in coming to that conclusion he overlooked the fact that

"HERE'S MY PART OF THE SPREAD," meant the well known fact that she was not like other girls and that the best laid eggs as well as the best laid plans "going off" alike.

They had spent Easter eve together, and the time had come when he should take his leave if he did not wish to break the Sabbath. But as he sturred as if about to go May said:

"I have a cake of my own making that I want you to try before you go."

This was exactly the opening he had been waiting for all evening.

"Thank you," he said. "And I have something of my own cooking that I want you to try."

"Something of your own cooking?" she asked, opening her brown eyes very wide.

"Exactly, and I hope you will enjoy it."

"What is it? Candy?"

"I didn't know candy was cooked. I thought it was just made."

"How witty you have become since you went to the city!" she retorted, with a mock bow.

"Oh, you have no idea," he replied calmly. "Now you go and get your cake, and when you come back I'll have my spread ready."

May left the room, wondering what on earth was coming. Of course she rather expected a present or souvenir of some kind from him after he had been corresponding with her for some months in an affectionate vein as she would allow.

"Will 'show the giver's mind.' Does that mean that the egg is not more than half baked?"

"It isn't baked at all; it's boiled," he answered testily.

"That means that it has been in hot water. Does it follow that you are likely to get into hot water too?"

"I trust not," he replied fervently. "But, say, this cake of yours is simply delicious."

"I suppose when I eat this egg I'll have to compliment it too. But, come to think of it, an egg is something that one should always take with a grain of salt."

"Not this one," he said eagerly. "This is an especial egg."

"Well, I'll have it for breakfast and see if it is gold all the way through."

"Oh, it is better than gold!"

"Better? And it is going to show your mind, so the poem says. Dear, dear, I never thought you had such a wonderful mind!"

"Now you are purposely misunderstanding me."

"On the contrary, I am not understanding you at all."

"I wish I could make you understand me, Miss Hartley."

"Why, do you find me so stupid that I can't understand?"

"No; I simply find you too clever to let me see whether you understand or not. But don't save the egg for breakfast. Perhaps you wouldn't care to open it at the table with the children."

"Why shouldn't I care to open a golden egg if it's real gold? I am afraid it is only plated!" she exclaimed, noticing a spot where the gold leaf was rubbing loose.

"I wish you would open it now," said Harry.

His persistence was just exactly what would naturally keep May from opening the egg to please him, but it must be admitted that her curiosity was very thoroughly aroused. Besides, her somehow seemed different from what he used to be before going to the city, and she was beginning to feel a misgiving that she might tense him altogether too much. Finally she decided that she would satisfy him and her own curiosity by opening the Easter egg. Taking the cake knife in her hand, she took one more critical look at the egg and then exclaimed:

"Oh, I wish you had put the poetry at the other end of the egg, for I would like to save this wonderful shell! But now I'll have to spoil the verses while opening it."

"Why, no," he protested. "I put the verses near the big end so that you wouldn't have to spoil them."

"But how could I open the egg without spoiling them?"

"By opening it at the little end, as everybody else does."

"At the little end! I never opened an egg at the little end in my life."

"Well, it isn't too late for you to begin now."

"It is entirely too late when I know better. Everybody knows that the big end is the only end to open an egg at. If you open that end, you have room to get your spoon in."

"Spoon nonsense. You would think that one nie eggs with a tablespoon to hear you talk."

"Well, one would think you had never eaten eggs at all," she retorted, "when you don't know which end to open."

"But I do know at which end to open them, and that is why I fixed that one as I did. My mother taught me as a child to open my egg at the little end, and I have never forgotten it."

"If it had been sensible, you would have forgotten it, but I want you to know that my mother taught me to open them at the big end, and it just makes me sick to see any one open an egg at the little end. That's the end that the yolk is in, and you are always in danger of cutting too deep and mashing things up."

"My?" he said, with an attempt at being sarcastic. "How well you know the anatomy of an egg."

"Well," she answered hotly, "I know the anatomy of eggs so well that I have no further desire to investigate the contents of this one, even if it does show the giver's mind." And she replaced it on the table.

An Easter Song

BY NEIL MACDONALD

COPYRIGHT 1932, BY HAMILTON MUSK

She sang me a song of triumph, a hymn of the Easter time,
That swept o'er the chords of feeling with the charm of its words and rhyme.

The thorn was of love that conquered, that won in the war with death
Of hope in a life immortal surviving the fleeting breath.

Like a grand, triumphant psalm, the psalm of a lava supreme,
My soul was filled with its rapture—I lived in a strange, sweet dream.

And a calm came over my spirit, a peace without doubt or fear:
I felt on the waves of music upraised to a purer sphere.

COPYRIGHT BY PARKINSON CO. NEW YORK

Bright vistas opened before me, demons that the lost ne'er trod:
I longed for a bliss which only the soul finds in rest with God.

The wonderful anthem ended, its last notes dying away
As the south wind breathed its promise of verdure and flowers for May.

The jubilant chimes of Easter rang out with a glad refrain:
I felt that for man, as nature, the springtime would come again.

I thought of the risen Saviour, I thought of His empty tomb,
And over the graves of ages I saw the anemone bloom.

A lover's feelings are more soft and sensitive
Than are the tender horns of cocked anilla.

So it is no wonder that their tender feelings were wounded by this riddle.

As Harry rose angrily from the table he accidentally struck against it in such a way that the golden egg, which May had put down, started to roll toward the edge, and before either of them noticed what was happening it fell to the floor with a crash. As it did so it burst asunder, and something bounced out that could not help attracting attention. As it rolled off into a corner every turn threw out sparkles of prismatic light. May uttered an involuntary "Oh!" as soon as she saw what the egg had contained, and, forgetting all about her anger, her face flushed with surprise and pleasure. Glancing up at her from the wreck of the egg, Harry saw the change of expression on her face, and the absurdity of his anger came over him like a flash. He began to laugh and, stepping across the room, picked up the engagement ring with his flashing smile.

"If you won't try to eat my Easter egg," he said, "I'd like a chance to say my angry words of the last few minutes."

"All right," said May, "and I'll join you."

He looked fair into her laughing eyes, then took her unresisting hand in his and slipped the ring on her finger.

"You understand the giver's mind now?" he asked.

"Yes," she whispered.

"And do you object to it?" She made no answer, but it was one of those cases where an answer in words is entirely superfluous. When he finally decided that he "really must go now," he stooped down to pick up the remains of his Easter egg and found that it was broken fairly in the middle between the big and little ends.

"Look!" he exclaimed. "Fate has arbitrated our discussion. The shell has broken just where I had cut the hole to put in the ring."

"That's all right," said May calmly. "I accept the decision, but I think we had better have scrambled eggs and quickets for awhile at first."

EASTER JOLLITIES.

BY FRANK TOWNLEV

To make Easter merely a "Sunday of joy" would be to rob the holy Sabbath of that reverence always due to the first day of the week. But religious observances, while always earnest, are various, and different people have applied their own peculiar humor and customs to the celebration of Eastertide. Now it is typical of the resurrection of our Lord, again of the bursting forth of spring and to some folks of lively yet conventional views the close of a long season of fasting and denial. Among the pioneers of the American border there was little unity of religious faith and often not enough of one kind to set the fashion for staid observances. But Easter had its traditions, and there was so little to make the burden of border life agreeable that every event was seized upon by the young as an excuse for frolicking.

The Easter egg somehow appealed to all people of whatever lineage. An article of food and commerce, treasured like gold at ordinary times, the egg was exalted from fixed duty on Easter and given over to the carnival mob for all kinds of sport. If nothing more delicious was thought of, there was an egg feast all day, with a mean of fried, boiled, scrambled or poached eggs at every meal. Small boys looked forward to Easter, or "Eas," much the same as to Fourth of July. They wanted eggs by the barrel, the basketful or the barrelful, and they stole them as shamelessly as city urchins do the fuel for bonfires.

Tied in various colors, the Easter eggs came from hidden stores for the family feast, and when the amusement of stealing and dying for general use became too tame the boys also laid by stores for a vagabond feast in the woods. Eggs were roasted in ashes and devoured with the dash that goes with an out of doors appetite. To lend football runs, they then eggs raw or were fired into the faces of infants. Perhaps there was economy in the long run in this recklessness, for the boys who reveled in an Easter feast didn't have any appetite for eggs the remainder of the year.

In olden times the church gave to Easter a festive coloring by letting the people down to their common tastes at the close of Lent. Witty stories and anecdotes were told to arouse the "paschal laugh." With all nature smiling in spring it was natural that the human heart should open itself to joyous thoughts.

New clothing on Easter Sunday is an old custom. An ancient verse runs in this strain:

At Easter let your clothes be new
Or else be sure you will it rue.

There were many superstitions about new clothes for Easter, and Shakespeare records the custom. Vanity and the dictates of fashion due to the change of the seasons may be at the bottom of the modern notion of donning new gowns and bonnets at Eastertide, but it is also a happy and innocent way of expressing joyousness. Lent is over, pleasure may resume its sway, and women should imitate the trees and the plants by putting on fresh adornments.

The maid and swains of Ireland in the good old days indulged in what they called the "dance of joy" at the dawn of Easter. Happiness is a cure for evil, and perhaps in the evolution of creeds and customs the great spring-tide festival may become again a carnival of innocent merrymaking for the devoutly religious as well as the secular world.

AN EASTER COMEDY

BY A. B. LEWIS.

[Copyright, 1932, by A. B. Lewis.]

Mrs. Dubbs hadn't lived with Mr. Dubbs twenty-five years without knowing his peculiarities. He never made Christmas presents; he never observed birthdays; he did not regard Easter as the proper day to bring out new headgear. Mrs. Dubbs had always rebelled about the latter, and the time had finally come when she meant to break out in open defiance. She began long weeks ahead to cut nickels and dimes off the household expenses and lay them aside for another purpose, and when at last Easter drew near she counted up her savings and found the sum sufficient to buy what her soul craved for. She didn't expect that Dubbs would be pleased, but if she got out of it without a solemn lecture she would be more than satisfied.

Quickly enough, Mr. Dubbs had not only come to the conclusion that he needed a new hat, but wearing his old one for two years, but he so far went back on his record as to decide to bring it out Easter Sunday. It took considerable scheming on his part to buy a new "thing" and get it home and deposit the box on the spare bed up stairs the day before Easter, and, although he was home when his wife's new bonnet arrived in its handbox, it was sneaked up stairs into the spare room and left beside his hat without his being any the wiser.

That evening Mr. Dubbs was returning home from the store he found a puppy on the doorstep shivering with the cold, and in the goodness of his heart, for he was good in streaks, he picked up the pup and carried it inside. In the goodness of her heart Mrs. Dubbs welcomed and fed the stranger, and, instead of turning it out to the cold world, she let it remain and make itself at home. Shortly before bedtime Mrs. Dubbs called to herself as she looked over at her husband and said:

"John, I do wish I had a new bonnet for tomorrow."

"Yes, and I wish I had a new hat," he mumbled in reply.

There was silence for a time as she patched a pair of trousers and he read his paper, and then he suddenly started up and remarked:

"I wonder where that pup is?"

"He must be up stairs," she gasped as she looked around.

It was a race between them to the top of the stairs, and they came out neck and neck.

As they stood in the door of the spare room they saw the dog. He was still chewing away, but had nearly finished. On the bed and floor were strips of bonboxes and pieces of hat brim and hat crown, and mingled with them were ends of ribbons, bits of straw and glass ornaments and torn velvet. The pup had done his best.

"My Easter bonnet!" wailed the wife.

"My Easter hat!" shouted the husband.

And that was all—all except MR. DUBBS PICKED UP the pup and dropped it out of a second story window. The lights turned down and the clock wound up, and as the deceivers slept they dreamed and moaned and muttered, and Easter day was no more to them.

ASTIER comes in the springtime burst of plant growth, when both cultivated park and woodland glen invite our attention anew to the marvels of the floral world. Our old pagan ancestors were as observant of these phenomena as we are, and at about the date upon which we celebrate the resurrection they held a joyful festival in honor of the deity who personified the opening of the spring. The early church, with its habit of adopting an many of the popular religious rites as possible into the new faith, found it an easy matter to transform the feast of the earth's awakening from the sleep of winter to the rejoicing that Christ should initiate the resurrection of the souls of men from the sleep of the grave.

Before the Christian era throughout Europe blossoms bore the names of the pagan deities, but with the revolution of religious ideas the plants had to be rechristened and the legends attached to them reconstructed to conform to the new faith.

Perhaps from a feeling of reverence but few were named for Christ or any member of the trinity. We still have Christ's thorn, which in supposed to have furnished the material for the crown of torture.

Upon the Saviour's mother a wealth of flowers were bestowed. The phlox coming to us with the prefix "lady," as lady's slipper and lady's tresses, were "Our Lady's" before abbreviated by time. Our lady's thistle received its name from a legend connected with the flight of the holy family from Bethlehlem. As Mary nursed the infant by the roadside a few drops of milk fell on a plant at her feet, and the leaves retain to this day the vouchers for the story. The virgin's bower, marigold, maiden's hair and all like titles were originally named for the Virgin Mary.

THE ANOEL GAVE ABEL THREE SEEDS.

The frillbarn, or checkered lily, before the crucifixion was pure white, with upturned cup. It stood proudly erect during the afterglow until darkness enshrouded the earth, and it saw that all nature but itself was grieving. Then it bent low its head and donned garments of mourning and began to weep. Still it hangs its head in somber attire and still each petal sheds a pearly tear.

The veronica gets its name from a resemblance to the imprint of Christ's features left on St. Veronica's handkerchief when she pressed from out the throng and wiped the perspiration from the Redeemer's brow.

It has never been decided what tree or trees furnished wood for the cross. Bede says the cypress, the cedar, the pine and the box, but St. Chrysostom quotes from Isaiah 13, 13, "The glory of Lebanon (cedar) shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree and the box together to beautify the place of thy sanctuary." The four woods now considered symbolic of the four quarters of the globe shall finally extend.

There is an old English legend carrying the cross back to the days of our first parents. Adam sent Abel to an angel to petition him to show them the path back to the garden of Eden. The angel gave Abel three seeds and directed him to plant them, saying that from their trunks would spring the path to paradise. The seeds were planted, and one tree at least was flourishing at the time Solomon erected his temple. This tree was cut down to furnish a ridge-pole, but after it was brought in it was found to be too short. Then it was cast aside and lay waste by the pool of Bethesda until it was taken to form the cross, which, according to Christianity, will guide us to the paradise lost to us by the weakness of the first man.

THE RIVER NEWS.

The time of the Duke of New Orleans from New Orleans to London in the 40s was 4 days. General Council May 21 minutes. Office of Tax Collector.

A question that is to be settled by the council at first meeting is that of how to collect city taxes. It was referred to City Attorney Worton, but the latter states that the position of tax collector is not provided for in the second class charter, except in the duties assigned the city treasurer.

Under the third class charter the tax collector is elected in April of each year, but as the third class charter has ceased to exist, so far as the city of Paducah is concerned, it is claimed by many that no tax collector can be elected at the next meeting of the council. Still, the city treasurer, who is paid only a nominal salary of $1 a year, cannot be required to shoulder the burden of collecting city taxes, which apparently would leave Paducah with no legal means of collecting taxes under the new charter.

About the only way of solving the problem, it seems, is that of resorting to section 3189 of the second class charter, which says that the general council may alter or change, at any time, the manner of assessing property for taxation, and the collection thereof, which may mean that the council shall say which way taxes shall be collected, and if by a regularly elected collector, the general council, after its organization, may pass an ordinance providing for the position, and the election held under it.

It is plain that the election of a tax collector cannot be held under the third class charter, and that it can-
